The local loop plants in all three of Summit's wire centers are capable of meeting the minimum broadband speed requirements. However the lack of Middle Mile and the Second Mile transport facilities limit any broadband deployment. It is 32 fiber cable miles from Summit's broadband POP in the Cleary-Summit wire center to the nearest terrestrial backhaul; it is 62 fiber cable miles from Summit's POP in the Chena Hot Springs wire center to the nearest terrestrial backhaul; and it is 254 fiber cable miles from Summit's POP at Coldfoot Camp to the nearest terrestrial backhaul.
